

DLH Expands its Digital Transformation Services for the National Institute on Aging through $18.6 Million Award

May 15, 2023

ATLANTA, May 15, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- DLH Holdings Corp. (NASDAQ: DLHC) ("DLH" or the "Company"), a leading provider of digital transformation, systems engineering and integration, and science research and development solutions to federal agencies, today announced that it has been awarded a contract to continue and significantly expand its IT services for the National Institute on Aging ("NIA"). NIA is the third largest institute of the National Institutes of Health, dedicated to supporting and conducting research to better understand the nature of aging and the aging process, and diseases and conditions associated with growing older.

The contract includes a base period of one year with four one-year options, with a total value of $18.6 million. Through this award, DLH will be responsible for driving key digital transformation goals for the NIA Intramural Research Program, such as DevSecOps (development, security, and operations) and scientific poly-cloud enablement for high-performance computing and data science. The Company will provide a wide range of IT solutions in service of the customer's research-based mission, including integrating new and existing IT assets, applications, services, and systems; digital transformation; cloud enablement, cybersecurity ecosystem development, system architecture, systems administration, service desk and technician support, scientific programming, and more.

"We are honored for the opportunity to continue and expand our relationship with the National Institute on Aging," said Diane Yarnell, President of DLH's Civilian Health IT Business Unit. "We are incredibly proud of our team for successfully managing the multiple objectives of this contract and demonstrating our ability to deliver innovative solutions and exceptional service to this customer."

"Through this award, DLH will leverage digital transformation and cybersecurity capabilities to advance our customer's vital health and scientific mission," added Zach Parker, DLH President and CEO. "This critical, complex work exemplifies the broad range of customer needs that DLH is now able to address and the types of valuable opportunities that are available to our company moving forward."
