

DLH to Provide Mission-Critical Cyber Support for U.S. Navy

August 18, 2026

ATLANTA, Aug. 18, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- DLH Holdings Corp. (NASDAQ: DLHC) ("DLH" or the "Company"), a leading provider of digital transformation and cybersecurity, systems engineering and integration, and science research and development, today announced it has been awarded a multiple-award indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity ("MAC ID/IQ") contract to provide technical services in support of cyberspace activities for the U.S. Navy. The Cyberspace Science, Research, Engineering and Technology Integration Unrestricted Multiple Award Contract is administered by Naval Information Warfare Center ("NIWC") Pacific.

Through task orders to be competed under this contract, DLH will have the opportunity to support the architecture, engineering, functionality, interface, and interoperability of cyberspace systems, services, and capabilities at the tactical, operational, and strategic levels, including all enabling technologies. Services may include technology assessment, systems engineering, software and hardware development and prototyping, modeling and simulation, training support, and cybersecurity.

DLH is one of 29 prime awardees of the contract, which includes a base period of five years and one option period of two additional years. The contract has a total ceiling for all awardees of $400 million. Task orders are expected to be released under the contract, for which DLH expects to compete.

"DLH leverages speed, agility, world-class engineering services, and leading-edge technology, including artificial intelligence and machine learning, to deliver mission-critical cyber support," said Billy Burnett, President of DLH's Defense & Security business group. "This award expands the avenues available to our company to support Navy customers."

Safe Harbor Statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995:

This press release may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements relate to future events or DLH's future financial performance. Any statements that refer to expectations, projections or other characterizations of future events or circumstances or that are not statements of historical fact (including without limitation statements to the effect that the Company or its management "believes", "expects", "anticipates", "plans", "intends" and similar expressions) should be considered forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties which could cause actual events or DLH's actual results to differ materially from those indicated by the forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements in this release include, among others, statements regarding the anticipated use of proceeds. These statements reflect our belief and assumptions as to future events that may not prove to be accurate. Our actual results may differ materially from such forward-looking statements due to a variety of factors, including: the failure to achieve the anticipated benefits of any future acquisition (including anticipated future financial operating performance and results); the inability to retain employees and customers; contract awards in connection with re-compete for present business and/or competition for new business; our ability to manage our debt obligations; compliance with bank financial and other covenants; changes in client budgetary priorities; government contract procurement (such as bid and award protests, small business set asides, loss of work due to organizational conflicts of interest, etc.) and termination risks; significant delays or reductions in appropriations for our programs and broader changes in U.S. government funding and spending patterns; legislation that amends or changes discretionary spending levels or budget priorities; legal, regulatory, and political changes from the federal government that could result in economic uncertainty; the impact of inflation and higher interest rates; and other risks described in our SEC filings. For a discussion of such risks and uncertainties which could cause actual results to differ from those contained in the forward-looking statements, see "Risk Factors" in the Company's periodic reports filed with the SEC, including our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2025, as well as interim quarterly filings thereafter. The forward-looking statements contained herein are not historical facts, but rather are based on current expectations, estimates, assumptions and projections about our industry and business.

Such forward-looking statements are made as of the date hereof and may become outdated over time. The Company does not assume any responsibility for updating forward-looking statements.
